

The Idiots Who Use The Word SOCIALIST

Listen, when you hear the words: "Racist", "Nazi", "Fascist", "Faggot", how do you react at an emotional subconscious level?

People have spent over a hundred years, and trillions of dollars, programming and brainwashing the entire world into hearing: COMMUNISTS when they hear the word "SOCIALIST". Thinking that any group can overcome the SUBCONSCIOUS (MEANS you don't know it is happening) subconscious scary response to the word "SOCIALIST" are horrifically naive.

Do not use the word unless you want to guarantee failure! Every sociologist and psych professor at every university will confirm this.

USE: "Human Rights" or "Equal Rights" or "Shared Empathy". or ANYTHING BUT "SOCIALIST". You can NOT change mass perception programming in one election cycle and your opposition has already spent over $100M to REINFORCE the negative trigger of that word.

If you use the word, and it kills the whole campaign, as predicted, I will CC: this to every head of your party with an "I TOLD YOU SO" signed by hundreds of sociologists. I know of AT LEAST 3 "K" street firms that are already paid to get your buddies to keep using the word because they know it will give the GOP millions of supporters.

Just don't do it.

Socialism is a trigger word on social media - but real discussion is ...

Jun 29, 2026The word "socialism" has become a trigger word in U.S. politics, with both positive and negative perceptions of it [1] split along party lines. But what does socialism actually mean to Americans? Although surveys can ask individuals for responses to questions, they don't reveal what people are saying when they talk among themselves.

Unpacking the Fear: Why is Socialism So Scary for So Many?

May 22, 2025Mention the word socialism in the United States, and you'll likely trigger a reflexive response: skepticism, suspicion, even outright hostility. It's a term loaded with emotional baggage. For many, it conjures images of breadlines, gray government buildings, and a loss of personal freedom. But where does this fear come from? Is it rooted in the reality of socialist theory or in decades of ...
